

Popular Mechanics

2006 National Hardware Show Editor's Choice Awards

(From left) Roy Berendsohn, Senior Home editor, Popular Mechanics; Irene Lebovics, Chairman of Pro Tech Communications; Ruthellen Thompson, Sales Manager; Bill Congdon, Publisher, Popular Mechanics

Noise Buster

Pro Tech Communications

$149

<http://www.noisebuster.net>

Anyone who works with machinery or power tools needs hearing protection. Now, instead of just muffling the sound, Noise Busters earmuffs use electronic circuitry to cancel the harmful sound. The new earmuffs use an internal microphone to pick up external noise, and then use that information to generate an opposing sound wave that cancels the noise.

Automotive | Home Journal | Science | Technology | Outdoors | Specials | Search
What's Hot | Current Issue | E-Mail | Advertise | Reader Services | PM Store | Subscribe | Renew | Gift
Subscriptions | Back Issues | Subscription Help | PM Digital Issue

Privacy Concerns? Read our policy on your privacy
For best viewing results, use Internet Explorer 6 or Firefox.